

Roland-Story Biology

Lesson 2.2 -- The Need for Feed

www.CrosswordWeaver.com

ACROSS

- 2 Organic substances from which organisms build proteins
- 5 Any food product which is derived from animal or vegetable fats.
- 6 hydrogen oxide
- 8 An organic substance that performs specific and necessary functions in relatively small concentrations in an organism.
- 10 A chemical compound or element of inorganic origin.
- 11 - Any of a large number of complex, organic compounds of amino acids which has a high molecular weight and is an essential part of all living organisms.

DOWN

- 1 The sum of the processes by which an organism utilizes the chemical components of food
- 3 Any of certain organic chemical compounds of carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen, which include sugars and starches.
- 4 The type and amount of food habitually ingested by a person or an animal.
- 7 The feed allowed an animal during a 24-hr period
- 9 A substance that favorably affects the nutritive processes of the body